Pregnancy Resource Center/Jeff Bisht

I have been a Health Educator at Watsonville High School (WHS) for over 30 years. Jeff Bisht from the Pregnancy Resource Center has been presenting to my health classes for eight years.

Jeff uses a variety of teaching methods to engage my often attention challenged Freshmen. Jeff engages the students in discussion and role plays. He provides endless scenarios which encourage the students to think about the consequences of sexual activity. His personal, friendly, and fun approach with the students creates an atmosphere which generates enthusiastic participation from the students. Jeff shares personal stories and factual information using numerous trending examples to capture the students' attention.

Jeff's presentation is a significant resource in my curriculum and I continue to look forward to his participation in my curriculum. He is very open to suggestions and continuously updates his presentations. He is one of our more accepted and liked guests on campus and many students are excited to see him on campus year-after-year.
